

HIGH BEAMS #2

A one-night outdoor walk-through exhibition featuring artists and galleries from the Bendix Building and beyond

On view:

Saturday,
Oct. 31, 2020
7-10 p.m.

After a wildly successful first outdoor COVID-conscious art exhibition on the roof of a parking garage, the High Beams crew is at it again. But this time, the curatorial collection of mostly Bendix Building art spaces will create a walk-through exhibition in the Gallery ALSO parking lot Halloween night.

The parking lot of
Gallery Also, 3754 N.
Mission Rd, Los Angeles,
CA 90031

Among the exhibits will be a spooky mini golf course, wild performances, and haunting projections. The theme: The dead tell no tales. Prizes will be given out to the best costumes that enforce social distancing!

“The impromptu group that formed to create an art show on the roof of a parking garage in September weren’t ready to say ‘Uncle,’ ” said Alanna Marcelletti, a curator from the Durden and Ray collective in the Bendix Building. “It has been such an exciting experience to create a show that anyone can see safely, and to do it with an amazing mix of curators from different artistic backgrounds and curatorial initiatives.

“The artists have gone above and beyond to come up with creative ideas to manifest this fun-house-style art experience.”
